There is a child
In a mother's arms
Far from home, far from home

There is a star
Shining in the night
A guiding light, guiding light

There is a hope
Rising in her heart
For this life, this life, this life.

Silent night, holy night
All is calm, all is bright

(repeat all above)

*Who is this mother?
Who is this child?
Where is this star so bright?
They are every mother, every child
Let us be their guiding light*

There is a child
In a mother's arms
Far from home, far from home

In search of peace
And a better life
For this child, for this child

There is a hope
Rising in her heart
For this life, this life
There is a hope
Rising in her, rising in her heart
For this life, this life.

Silent night, holy night
All is calm, all is bright

There is a child
(All is bright)
There is a star
(All is bright)

There is a hope...
